

PAY WHAT YOU CAN TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Determine whether you're eligible for PWYC

WHY

We understand that not all writers have the financial means to pay for professional book design and self-publishing services. That's why we offer our Pay What You Can system, which allows writers to access these services regardless of their budget.

TRUST

However, we ask that writers only utilize this system if they are truly unable to pay the full price for our services. We trust that our clients will use this system with integrity and honesty, and will not take advantage of this offering if they are able to pay the full amount.

APPLY

To determine if a writer is eligible to use our Pay What You Can system, we ask that they provide us with a brief explanation of their financial situation and the amount they are able to pay for our services.

TRANSPARENCY

By using our Pay What You Can system, you agree to be truthful about your financial situation and ability to pay for our services. If we determine that a client has misrepresented their financial situation, we reserve the right to revoke their access to this system and require payment for any services rendered.

PAID VS. PWYC

We ask that writers also understand that our Pay What You Can system is intended to help those who are truly in need, and is not a substitute for our full-priced services. If you are able to pay the full price for our services, we ask that you do so to help support our business and ensure that we are able to continue offering these services to writers in need.

DECISION

Ultimately, it is up to the individual writer to determine if they are truly unable to pay the full price for our services, and if our Pay What You Can system is an appropriate option for them.

THANK YOU

Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.
